Michael Young offers various books and video products to help students learn and remember the work he teaches. Some products offered are products he has found to be an asset to his practice and do not demonstrate the work he teaches. These are not required and are available as a courtesy to the students (due to repeated requests from former students). These products are sold to enhance the learning environment and are available at an additional charge. They include a set of VHS training tapes (or a set of DVD's). These are meant to enhance the work taught in the workshop, not to replace the continuing education hours. Check out his web site www.mrtherapy.com for details on products and prices.
